Dear GMEA In-Service Concert Attendees and Participants,

It is an honor to have the Johns Creek High School Chamber Orchestra perform at your prestigious conference. Our orchestra represents students who have dedicated so much to their development in the musical arts. In just six short years of existence, Johns Creek High School has become renowned for its orchestra program. Our dedicated and talented director, Mr. Young Kim, spends countless hours working with orchestra students in developing and refining their talents. His love for teaching emanates in the expertise of the education he provides for his students. Our orchestra program is the pride and joy of not just Johns Creek High School, but the entire community our school serves.

At Johns Creek High School we take pride in our core values of Integrity, Service and Excellence. Our orchestra students, under Mr. Kim's leadership epitomize our values and represent our school with pride. Our entire school community admires the hard work our orchestra students undertake to rise to a level of sophistication and musical aptitude. The orchestra program at the school is a role model for all.

My sincerest thanks are extended to the GMEA In-Service selection committee for choosing our orchestra to showcase at the conference. As principal, I am full of pride to be able to work with Mr. Young Kim and his students. My wish is for a great conference for all of the performers and a wonderful future with our young and talented musicians.

Sincerely,

Gail Johnson

Dear Georgia Music Educators and Guests:

It is my great pleasure to congratulate the Johns Creek High School Chamber Orchestra for being selected to perform at the GMEA In-Service Conference. It is such an honor for our school system to be represented by this fine group of talented students.

This ensemble, and its outstanding conductor, Young Kim, exemplify a high standard of excellence year after year. The success of the Johns Creek High School orchestra program reinforces the commitment to the Fine Arts Programs, which is supported by the Fulton County Board of Education, our parents, and community.

The Fulton County School System has a proud history of supporting the Arts in our schools. Music touches and changes lives, enriches our communities, and contributes to our cultural heritage. Thank you for honoring the Johns Creek High School Chamber Orchestra, as well as the Fulton County School System with this wonderful opportunity.

Sincerely,

Dear Georgia Music Educators and Guests:

It is my pleasure to congratulate the Johns Creek Chamber Orchestra on this invitation to perform at the Georgia Music Educators Association's annual in-service conference.

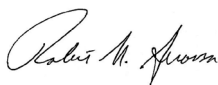

We are proud to know Johns Creek is one of two high schools in the state to receive this year's prestigious invitation, especially since it is the second time since the school opened five years ago. This is truly a testament to our young students' talent and skill. On behalf of the Fulton County School System, thank you for the opportunity to showcase their skill and abilities.

Led by Director Young K. Kim, the Johns Creek Chamber Orchestra is part of the exceptional performing arts program enjoyed by thousands of Fulton County students. The Fulton County School System has been recognized for 15 consecutive years as one of the Top 100 Communities to Live for Music Education, and the outstanding music programs at Johns Creek High School are one reason Fulton County has received this national acknowledgement for so many years.

The students you witness today are not only fine musicians, but they also are esteemed scholars. They represent the top students not only in their school, but also in the Fulton County School System. The students' dedication to their studies, as well as their music, makes them well-deserving of this invitation to perform. They spend countless hours in the classroom and the orchestra room to become such well-rounded, inspirational, and talented young adults.

Thank you for honoring the Johns Creek Chamber Orchestra, as well as the Fulton County School System, with this wonderful opportunity.

Sincerely,

Robert Avossa, Ed.D.

November 2014

Dear GMEA Conference Participants and Guests:

I am delighted that the Johns Creek High School Chamber Orchestra has been selected to perform at the 2015 Georgia Music Educators Association In-Service Conference in Savannah, Georgia. As one of only two high school orchestras from the entire state of Georgia to be chosen this year, we are truly honored. Congratulations to our Orchestra Director, Mr. Young Kim, and his world class student musicians for achieving yet another milestone in the six short years that they have been performing.

The Fulton County School System has a proud history of supporting Fine Arts in our schools, and today you will hear why we maintain that commitment. Excellence and dedication from the educators, students, parents and community combine to provide us with an outstanding music program that continues to raise the bar in Music Education.

Thank you for the invitation, and I congratulate our conductor, students and parents on receiving this highest honor. As the School Board Member who represents district 5, I am proud that Johns Creek will have the privilege to represent all of the students of Fulton County today.

Sincerely,

Linda McCain

Dear GMEA In-Service Conference Attendees:

Congratulations to the Johns Creek High School Orchestra on its selection to perform at the 2015 Georgia Music Educators Association In-Service conference. It is an honor for Fulton County and the Johns Creek community to be represented by this fine group of students you will hear this evening.

This orchestra and its outstanding conductor, Young Kim, exemplify the high standard of excellence of the Fulton County Fine Arts program. Today's concert is the culmination of countless hours of hard work by Mr. Kim and talented and dedicated students who, along with highly supportive administrators and parents, have collaborated to present a program of the highest quality.

Since 2000, Fulton County has been ranked by the American Music Conference and the National Association of Music Merchants as one of the Best Communities for Music Education in America. Fulton County is one of two school systems nationwide to receive this recognition each of the past 14 years. This achievement illustrates the commitment to music education by the Fulton County Board of Education, administration, and community.

On behalf of the Fine Arts Department of Fulton County Schools, I want to thank you for the opportunity to hear the Johns Creek High School Orchestra perform at this year's conference. Best wishes for an outstanding concert!

Sincerely,

Felice Margol
Coordinator of Fine Arts

Johns Creek is a traditional comprehensive high school, part of the Fulton County Public School System. Established in 2009 to serve students living in southeast Duluth and east Alpharetta in North Fulton County. The school is named after Georgia's newest city, Johns Creek. The student population of Johns Creek reflects cultural, geographic, and economic diversity. Our students are supported by active parents who annually volunteer thousands of hours within a community that values education. Johns Creek students continually meet the high expectations mandated by a teaching staff that is second to none.

CONDUCTORS

Young Keun Kim is currently the Director of Orchestras at Johns Creek High School in Johns Creek, Georgia. He is a graduate of Georgia State University where he received Bachelor of Music degree (B.M.) and the Master of Music Education degree (M.M.Ed.). For the past twenty seven years, he has taught and directed orchestras at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. For the past twenty six years, his groups have earned consecutive SUPERIOR ratings at the GMEA District V Orchestra Large-Group Performance Evaluation.

His groups have been invited twice to perform at the prestigious Midwest Clinic-An International Band and Orchestra Conference in Chicago (2005, 2012); the 58th Biennial Music Educators National Conference in Nashville, Tennessee (2002); and have four times performed at the Georgia Music Educators Association In-Service Conference in Savannah, Georgia (2000, 2005, 2009, 2011) and has been invited again for the fifth time to perform at the GMEA In-Service Conference (2015). Young Kim's groups have also traveled and performed internationally--- participating in four European concert tours (2001, 2005, 2009, 2014). The performances include cities of Austria (Salzburg, Vienna, Eisenstadt), Germany (Munich), Italy (Rome, Perugia, Florence, Assisi, Cremona, Padua, Venice), Hungary (Budapest), and Czech Republic (Prague). His orchestras performed numerous times at the Symphony Hall, Spivey Hall, and at the Georgia Governor's Mansion.

Young Kim has also been active in the Korean-American community in the Atlanta area. He has founded the Korean-American Youth Center Orchestra/KAYCO (청소년 쎄터 오케스트라) in 1994 and has conducted this orchestra for four years. The members of the KAYCO included some of the top middle, high school, and college student musicians in the Atlanta area. This group was invited to perform in various important functions including the performance at the Woodruff Park during the 1996 Atlanta Summer Olympic Games. Young Kim has also directed the Korean-American Chamber Orchestra. The members included principal string players of the Atlanta Symphony Youth Orchestra (ASYO) and college students of Georgia State University.

Young Kim is an active clinician, guest conductor, and adjudicator throughout Georgia and Southeast. He has served as the GMEA District V Orchestra Chair, District V Orchestra Large Group Performance Evaluation (LGPE), and the Fulton County High School Honor Orchestra Organizing Chair. Young Kim has also served as the National High School Honor Orchestra (NHSO) Representative/Chair for Georgia. He currently serves as the certified Head Adjudicator for the GMEA Large Group Performance Evaluation.

His current professional affiliation includes National Association for Music Education (NAfME), Georgia Music Educators Association (GMEA), American String Teachers Association (ASTA), and Kappa Delta Pi, an International Honor Society in Education. Young Kim is listed in the 2006-2007 editions of National Register's Who's Who in Executives and Professionals.

Young Kim has been a member of the prestigious Georgia Governor's Honors Program (GHP) faculty for four summers (1998, 1999, 2000, and 2003). In addition to guest conducting All-State and Honor Orchestras, he has also conducted many summer music camps such as the American String Teachers Association (ASTA) music camp and the University of Georgia Summer Music Camp in Athens, Georgia, and the conductor of the Interlochen Summer Music Arts Camp in Interlochen, MI.

In 2006, he was selected as the "2006 Georgia Music Educator of the Year" by the Georgia Music Educators Association. He is listed in the 1998, 1999, 2003, 2005, 2006 editions of the "Who's Who Among America's Teachers." He was also selected and recognized as the "Expert Teacher Cadre-7" in the Fulton County Schools system in 1997 and participated in its leadership program. Young Kim was named the "S.T.A.R. Teacher" of Johns Creek High School in 2010 and "Teacher of the Year" at Johns Creek High School in 2011. Young Kim was again named "S.T.A.R. Teacher" for 2012.

In addition to being the Director of Orchestras at Johns Creek High School, he also teaches the AP Music Theory class.

Mr. Timothy D. Anderson grew up in the Atlanta area and is a graduate of the Fulton County School system. He earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Illinois and a masters degree from University of Georgia. He has been the orchestra director at Autrey Mill Middle School since 2004 and in 2011 was invited to perform at the Georgia Music Educators Association Conference. Prior to this he taught at Pinckneyville Middle School. With the Pinckneyville Orchestra he performed at the GMEA Conference in 2002 and in 2003 he was selected as the teacher of the year. In addition to being active as a teacher and clinician Mr. Anderson serves as the director of the American String Teachers Association Summer Orchestra Camp, serves both as his district orchestra chair and on the state GMEA orchestra standing committee, and performs regularly as a cellist throughout the Southeast both live and as a studio session musician.

THANK YOU 2014 GRADUATES OF THE JCHS CHAMBER ORCHESTRA!

We would like to acknowledge and thank the 2014 JCHS Chamber Orchestra Graduates. Because of your leadership, musicianship, passion, and dedication, we were selected to perform on this prestigious stage.
